

COBALT

A Comprehensive Return-to-Office Solution

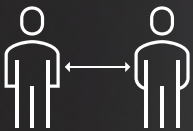

Inaccurate thermometers, multiple vendors, and decisions without data have become hallmarks of Return-to-Office plans. Capitalizing on the crisis, vendors have made claims they can't back up. Cobalt can. Professionalize your response with the tools and data you need to make decisions.

Fortune 500 companies trust Cobalt to ensure their employees' temperatures are measured within 1° F

While on patrol, Cobalt identifies whether people are properly wearing face coverings, reporting behavioral trends over time

Cobalt identifies people standing closer than 6 feet apart, politely reminding them to monitor social distancing

Cobalt can launch services within one week in the US and within one month in most countries. Contact us today to learn how we can professionalize your response to COVID and provide a safer work environment in uncertain times.
